Young Survivors Week

SHARE • ADVOCATE • SUPPORT

June 5-11, 2016

WHAT:

- A week dedicated to honoring those diagnosed with colorectal cancer under the age of 50.
- An effort to educate individuals about the increasingly rising trends in young-onset colorectal cancer.

WHY:

- Raise awareness and support research for disease prevention and a decrease in the number of late-stage cases.
- Bring attention to the issues facing young colorectal cancer survivors.
- Provide support by sharing stories and photos of patients and survivors, along with commemorating loved ones.

WHO:

- YOU! And your friends, family and everyone else you know (and maybe even people you don't!).

WHAT YOU CAN DO:

- Share your story and post a picture to the Never Too Young Coalition on Facebook.
- Share our video and get involved in the social media campaign! More details on how to participate will be available on the Facebook page.
